A NEW SERIES OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOL BOOKS:

Each Book (in most instances) complete in itself.

PRICE ONE SHILLING.

Intended to comprise a complete Course of Elementary Education. Projected and Edited by the Rev. G. R. GLEIG, M.A., Prebendary of St. Paul's, Chaplain-General to the Forces, and Inspector-General of Military Schools. Assisted by eminent Scholars and Teachers.

PROSPECTUS.

THE object of the School Series here offered to the Public is to produce a succession of little books, each complete in itself, and containing lessons suitable to the capacities of every description of learners. Thus, after making himself familiar with the shapes of letters, the pupil is taught, in My First School Book to Teach me Reading and Writing, how the union of two or more letters produces an articulate word; how articulate sounds awaken images in the mind; how numbers are represented as well by figures as by letters; and how the printed and written characters of the English language correspond one with another. This done, he learns, in Simple Truths, to connect words of one syllable with grave ideas, and so to exercise the faculties which it is the object of all education to strengthen without overstraining. His next step is to My Second School Book, then to The First Book of History, in which he finds set forth, in words advancing from one syllable to four, an outline of the annals of his native country. When he shall have fairly gone through these, all the drudgery of learning how to read may be assumed to be overcome; and his next lessons aim at storing his mind with important information. With this view, the Histories of the British Colonies, of British India, of Greece, Rome, France, and Modern Europe, are successively placed in his hands; while from the Sacred History he acquires the knowledge of those great truths on which all Christians are agreed.

Meanwhile, the principles on which language universally depends, as well as the sources whence his own is derived, and the inflections to which it is liable, are explained to him in the Explanatory Grammar,—a treatise so composed as to suit at once the most cultivated taste and the simplest understanding. The pupil is next made acquainted with the laws which regulate the movements of Nature, in Treatises on Astronomy, Hydrostatics, Hydraulics, Pneumatics, &c., Light, Heat, Magnetism, Electricity, Natural History, and the Steam Engine,—all of which, it is hoped, will be found to convey both entertainment and instruction. In the department of Accurate Science means have been adopted to set the pupil forward in a right course. In Arithmetic, in Geometry, in Algebra, and in Mechanics, such elementary works are supplied as lead him gradually on from the simplest to the most complete problem in numbers.

The Series contains, besides all these, Elementary Treatises on Geography, both general and particular. In the book of General Geography, those great features are set forth which distinguish the various regions and countries of the globe from one another; while the Geography of the British Empire explains in detail all that appertains, physically and politically, to Great Britain, and the islands and continents that depend upon her. The Hand-Atlas for Class-Teaching (sold for 2s. 6d.) is composed of 29 full-coloured Maps, compiled by Mr. M'Leod; which, although necessarily on a small scale, will be found to supply the aid so useful in imparting a sound knowledge of geography to young pupils, by marking to the eye the latitude, longitude, and relative size or position of nearly every place mentioned in the geographical and historical works of the Series. In writing, too, Mr. M'Leod's Graduated Series of Copy Books will be found to lead the pupil, by easy and progressive steps, from the simplest to the most difficult combinations. Mr. Isbister's Treatise on Book-keeping is the cheapest and most concise extant. A set of six forms of Account-Books (price 6d. each) exemplifying practically both single and double entry, has just been added to the Series by Mr. Isbister.

In addition to these universally important branches of education, the Series now comprises a Book of Health; that is to say, a descriptive outline of the construction of the human frame, and of the causes which, under ordinary circumstances, tend either to keep it in a high-state of vigour and ease, or to induce suffering and decrepitude. A Book of Biography will be added, containing sketches of the careers of individuals who, by honourable exertion, have raised themselves in society, and exercised a powerful influence over their fellow-men.

In conclusion, it may be said that this

School Series differs from all that have preceded it, in this—that its lessons are adjusted, not only upon a scale of difficulties gradually increasing, but according to a just estimate of the reflective powers of the learner, as these may be brought day by day to develop themselves. There is not one among them all, for example, after the forms and sounds of letters are rendered familiar, but teaches the pupil some practical truth, or solid principle, which it will be worth while to remember through life. Hence the Series is eminently adapted not only for children's seminaries of every description, but also for schools of adults whose early education may have been neglected.

That the public in general has not been blind to the merits of these works, is proved by the very wide circulation to which most of them have already attained. Of the Grammar there have been sold above 10,000 copies; of the History of England, nearly 8000; and of the other Histories, nearly 5000 copies;—and the projectors beg to state that no pains will be wanting on their part to make their School Series still more worthy of the public favour.

"We hail with great satisfaction this continuation of a work so eminently calculated to promote the knowledge of Greek classical literature, and to increase the taste for it among the educated classes. Singularly felicitous in seizing the salient points in the character of the different tribes of the ancient Greeks, and of the different branches and periods of their literature, and in conveying to his readers,—even to those unable to follow the train of his discussion in the originals,—clear and vivid ideas on the subject, Mr. Mure has in the present volume treated in a most effective manner the general history of Greek literature during the Attic period, i.e., from the usurpation of the supreme power at Athens by Pisistratus, A. 560 B.C. to the death of Alexander the Great, 323 B.C."
